DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 04/03/2006 has been entered.

Election/Restrictions

2. Claims 3-6, 8-17 and 30-47 remain withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to non-elected inventions.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 2, 18, 20-23, 25, 26, 29 and 48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brenner et al., for reasons cited in the previous action.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 04/03/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

6. The response is centered on the argument that the prior art additive composition is "not on the surface of any particles and [that] the composition of this reference is not even formed into particles at the time these additives are added to the composition."

7. Applicant is referred to col. 12, lines 42-44 of the English language version of Grenner (i.e., US 6,740,697), which teaches that the "additives are incorporated ... by mixing polymer granules (resin particles) with the additives ... or by mixing the solutions of the polymer with solutions of the additives, followed by evaporation of the solvents in known manner." Both of these coating methods would results in the resin granules being coated with the additives, prior to any further processing to form a final product, such as by extrusion. Thus the coated resin particles are taught by the prior art.
